

GODLY PARTNERS

By Dr. Hoyt W. Allen, Jr.

There are many in our world today who consider that their lives are personal and no one has any business telling them what to do. Many Americans think they do not have to be answerable to anyone and that includes their Creator.

Yet God is the one who provides the breath of air one breathes, the food one eats, the water one drinks, the earth one walks upon - therefore, He knows a little bit about life and marriage and should be listened to.

The divorce rate has gone out of sight, as well as the couples "living together". Then worse yet, people of the same sex wanting to partner is growing at a rapid speed.

I contend that the reason for this is that the "Instruction Book" (Bible) concerning life has been laid aside. As a result, we have the above taking place and youth running their parents, as well as the teachers at school.

Very few parents are attending "Bible School" and "Worship Services" today, nor are they reading the Bible in their homes. One can get married today and bring children into the world easier than they can obtain a driver's license.

Instructions are needed in every walk of life. The public school may teach about usage of proper grammar, the arts, sciences, and how to put a ball through the hoop. However, learning about how to get along with one's fellow human beings, and how to be a good faithful spouse and to keep a marriage together is not being done.

Learning how to have a good marriage & raise children is not an
